TRAVELING AND ARRIVING:

Korinji's parking lot address is S470 Hirst Road, Reedsburg, WI. Google Maps or a similar service will give you good directions to Korinji.

When you arrive at this address you will not see buildings from the road; you will only see forest and a blue sign "S470". Next to the sign is a short gravel drive opening up to a parking area. Please enter there and park your car in a manner that allows other vehicles to do the same. DO NOT park on the side of the road anywhere: you will be towed by the county.

After parking, walk to the trail which begins at the back of the parking area. This will take you through the forest to the Korinji gate and up to the monastery buildings. Follow the signs there to the residence entrance. Walk carefully, as the forest trail is sometimes uneven and can be slippery depending on conditions. If you arrive after dark you should use a flashlight.

If your physical condition prevents you from walking short distances, please let us know before you arrive and we will arrange to meet you at our service entrance.
